

CAWP SAFETY BULLETIN

Issue #11-22 | September 27, 2022

The Mid-Atlantic Safety and Health Alliance (MASHA) is holding its annual safety conference on October 27, 2022. The conference is open to everyone and features trending safety topics to meet the region's needs of continuing education in safety.

Here are some highlights on this year's agenda:

- Topics on safety culture, OSHA hot topics, cyber security, industrial ventilation
- Latest safety products displayed by exhibitors
- Large number of safety students looking for opportunities from area universities
- Network with industry peers in construction, general industry and oil and gas
- Continuing education credits (CEUs) to gain certification maintenance points

MASHA, organized in 2007, is a non-profit alliance to promote awareness of proactive safety and health practices through education and professional networking opportunities.
