CAWP Safety Bulletin #5-23

June 13, 2023

Join CAWP and Rich Jones, Chief Clinical Officer of Youturn Health, on July 11 for a one-hour in-person session on educating your workforce on substance use disorder (SUD).

Organizations often conduct annual employee training around physical safety, sexual harassment, and violence in the workplace. According to a recent Gallop poll, 1 in 4 employees reside in a home where addiction is present, and family members of those struggling are five times more likely to end up in the hospital. Yet, training is rarely done on SUD in the workplace or at home. In response to this issue, Youturn Health developed a training called Recovery First Aid to help employees better understand how to discuss this challenging topic at work and in their personal lives.

Learners will gain a deeper understanding of the following:

1. How to create a culture that addresses SUD.
2. How it impacts employees and their families.
3. How to be an ambassador within your organization.

Youturn Health's Recovery First Aid Training addresses the following topics:

- Common signs of someone who may be struggling with SUD
- How to recognize SUD on the job and in family situations
- The impact on family members and how to approach the subject
- The proper mindset to approach someone and how to speak with them about SUD
- How to have informed conversations across your organization

Participants will receive a certificate of completion from Youturn Health.

Coffee and Bagels will be provided.
