

Pitt IRISE Fall Session Meeting

On Thursday, November 7th, the Pitt IRISE Fall Session was held at the University of Pittsburgh. Along with mapping research priorities and impact goals for IRISE's future direction, project presentations were given on landslide inventory, AI, and the development of the health and safety virtual reality platform.

Pitt IRISE Consortium is part of the Civil Engineering Department at the University of Pittsburgh's Swanson School of Engineering. Pitt IRISE was developed to provide innovative solutions to highway infrastructure problems through collaboration between the public agencies that own and operate the infrastructure and the private companies that design and build it. Partners include PennDOT, the Turnpike, Allegheny County, Golden Triangle Construction, Michael Baker Construction, CDR Maguire, and CAWP.

Today is Veterans Day, a day to reflect, honor, and thank our military veterans.

Due to the military lifestyle, often veterans experience mental health challenges including depression, PTSD, and traumatic brain injuries. In this article by the National Alliance on Mental Illness (NAMI), they outline five ways you can help and support veterans.
