June is National Post-Traumatic Stress Disorder (PTSD) Awareness Month, and currently, in the United States, about 12 million people experience PTSD.

Everyone with PTSD, whether they are Veterans or civilians who experienced serious accidents, natural disasters, sexual assault, or other traumatic events, needs to know that treatments work and can lead to a better quality of life.

The U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs' National Center for PTSD offers a PTSD Self-Screen test, resources about PTSD symptoms, and how to find support.
